Regarding mask wearing to slow the spread of COVID

Dear Editor

It struck me reading the letter from coach Glen Murphy, October 7, 2020 Sounder, on why he does not always wear a mask that he uses the pronoun "I" in his letter nineteen times but the pronoun "we" he only uses once and then only in the context of him and his daughter. If we all as individuals followed Glen Murphy's logic, none of us would be wearing a mask; until that is, the virus started spreading in our community. By then obviously it would be too late. Mask wearing is not an "I" matter, it's a "we" matter.

Sincerely,

Nick Doe
